Commodity Derivatives

For the three months ended March 31, 2015, Laredo expects to report a gain on derivatives of approximately $63.2 million, including approximately $63.1 million net cash received on settlements of matured derivatives. Although management does not expect these numbers to change, they are preliminary and unaudited.

Laredo maintains an active hedging program to reduce the variability in its anticipated cash flow due to fluctuations in commodity prices. At March 31, 2015, the Company had hedges in place for the remaining three quarters of 2015 for 5,768,140 barrels of oil at a weighted-average floor price of $80.99 per barrel, representing approximately 100% of anticipated oil production for the last nine months of 2015. The Company has also hedged 21,520,000 million British thermal units (“MMBtu”) of natural gas for the remaining nine months of 2015 at a weighted-average floor price of $3.00 per MMBtu, representing approximately 60% of anticipated natural gas and natural gas liquids production for the last three quarters of 2015. Additionally, the Company has basis swaps for the remaining nine months of 2015 totaling 2,750,000 barrels of oil to hedge the Midland-West Texas Intermediate (“WTI”) basis differential at WTI less $1.95 per barrel.

For 2016, the Company has hedged 4,129,800 barrels of oil at a weighted-average floor price of $81.84 per barrel and 18,666,000 MMBtu of natural gas at a weighted-average floor price of $3.00 per MMBtu. Additionally, for 2017, the Company has hedged 2,628,000 barrels of oil at a weighted-average floor price of $77.22 per barrel.

Laredo records all derivatives on its balance sheet as either assets or liabilities measured at their estimated fair value. Laredo has not designated any derivatives as hedges for accounting purposes and Laredo does not enter into such instruments for speculative trading purposes. Gain (loss) on derivatives is reported under “Non-operating income (expense)” in Laredo’s consolidated statements of operations.

Weighted-Average Shares Outstanding

For the three months ended March 31, 2015, basic and diluted weighted-average shares outstanding were approximately 162.426 million and 165.111 million, respectively. The updated weighted-average shares outstanding reflect the 69,000,000 shares issued in the Company’s equity offering in March.
